
DESERT-POEM

A big sandy oasis
The sun's heat will kill
An enormous land faces us
Everything seems so lifeless
Times like this I hear a shrill

At times I see a lifesaver
Of different colours forming a collage
I taste wonderful fruit flavour
That I wish I could savor
Alas I realise it was only a mirage

Sand is all the eye can see
Each small grain of sand is shifting
A pain I wish I could flee
Insanity makes me glee
I can feel my life drifting
