

From crawling to walking,
From walking to jumping,
From jumping to bouncing,
From bouncing to dancing.
All going to happen in the blink of an eye.
Watching and waiting until we can fly.

We can cry,
We can read,
We can write.
But there's one thing for sure.
We won't know when time will end our show.

You read a book
Page by page.
You read it in order
Day by Day.

No skipping, no jumping,
No leaping ahead.
No soaring, no flying
No having fun yet.

Before you get to read
Anything from any page,
Use your eyes, ears and fingertips.
Reading in order may be the most fun.
