

As time passes by the hardship stays While hope falls to the void my sadness reappears with my heart in spears
The locks are opened and my heart is broken With the walls closing in I loose my guidance
Lost in the darkness
I have no where to go I'm blindly following the unknown with me all alone
I have no direction to follow
What was my crime?
when I had prime
The pages are forgotten while the chapters are remembered Just stop the oppression and close my depression
A new future is ready and waiting
