

The Future

As I peer into the future
It's a world led by a shooter
Whose charming face
Hides a killer's database
Earth is consumed
Most people will agree that our future is doomed
Global warming is mutilating
Red skies, ash and solar flares, it will be creating
Advances will be made
In ways of military and raid
Cloning will be there
Genetic engineering to pair
Our buildings will reach past the atmosphere
Threatened will be our biosphere
If you look beyond that
Mars is the home of the aristocrat
Then soon it will be available
And it will be advisable
To abandon earth
And begin a new cycle of birth.
